

WELCOME TO ZENOLITE !

Zenolite™ is the new optical polymer high gloss multi-purpose panel product that gives a superior high gloss glass appearance without all the weight, installation and cost restrictions of glass or the design limitations of aluminium.

Perfect for home, office or commercial applications. Zenolite™ is the designer product of today without requiring the designer budget of tomorrow!

The Zenolite™ optical polymer panel product is leading the way when it comes to visibility and design impact.

Each and every step of the specialised manufacturing process is quality assured and continuously monitored to remove any imperfections and ensure a seamless and perfect mirror flat image from which the colour of the product simply radiates.

After 5 years research and testing, the Zenolite™ product was born.

Zenolite™ was created to meet the needs of the market not being met by current products.

Considerations such as depth of colour, consistency of finish, the ability to supply a perfectly flat sheet free of defects, lightweight, cost effective and last but not least, availability.

Someone will be in contact with you regarding your interest in Zenolite™, however in the interim we are happy to enclose our product brochure, or please go to www.zenolite.com.au for more details.

Go ahead and add a splash of living colour to your project today !
