Exotic Timber Products

THE future of timber is in black and white! For centuries, timber has been used in construction, it's one of the most versatile, durable, sustainable and beautiful elements in construction. Most people, consumers and specifiers alike, enjoy using timber, but are confused by the diverse range, features versus benefits and environmental consequences.

It's now easier to source, sample, specify and supply timber products, all from one company.

Since 1985, Australian Timber Products, trading as Austim, has built their reputation as one of WA's most innovative timber supply and importing companies.

To further consolidate our position in the WA market, Austim is excited to announce the launch of the new corporate brand of: SOLIDS. The SOLIDS range consists of 50 of the most unique and widely specified timber products, from Australia, Africa, Canada, North America, Europe and Asia Pacific.

We have aligned ourselves only with producers who share the same vision as we do, and are passionate about timber. As a point of difference we aim to source products only from responsibly managed resources and sustainably certified producers.

Austim can provide full "Chain of Custody" certification on a range of products, so as to ensure your next project meets your environmental expectation.

Incorporated into the SOLIDS range, is a full range of certified recycled Australian Hardwoods, re-engineered from power poles, wharf and bridge timbers.

To coincide with the launch of SOLIDS, new marketing tools are available to support specifiers, with distinctive and comprehensive sample folders, samples for colour boards, and a brand new website.

To experience SOLIDS, visit our website.
