"Altro listens and understands the organisation and responded with product options that best suited our needs and budget. Nothing was too much trouble and they got in boots and all, knowing we are a charity, to make sure that the very best could be provided. It is wonderful to work (again) with Altro – they show that they are more than an organisation out for a profit grab. They have heart and a deep sense of community spirit. This should be applauded and supported wherever possible"

Greg Fisher, General Manager,
Thread Together

"We had a unique requirement while undergoing the refurbishment of the clothing outlet. We had a space which had an existing floor. The space had no ventilation, thus using a product which is adhesive free was imperative. The product was down in four hours and the space was ready to be used immediately"
